Re: Informational Update – June 30, 2015 DWSD Pension Liability

The audited financial statements for the City of Detroit Water Fund and City of Detroit Sewage Disposal Fund for (collectively "Detroit Water & Sewerage Department" or "DWSD") the fiscal year ended June 30, 2015 were issued on May 31, 2016 and discussed at the June 17, 2016 GLWA Audit Committee meeting. The following is additional information relating to inquiry during the discussion.

Why is the net pension liability at June 30, 2015 significantly higher than estimated in prior communications?

The fiscal year June 30, 2015 includes the implementation of a new accounting standard Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 68, Accounting and Financial reporting for Pensions – An Amendment of GASB 27. The City elected a measurement date of June 30, 2014 for purposes of implementing GASB 68 to improve timeliness of financial reporting. Therefore, the June 30, 2015 net pension liability does not reflect the impact of the changes as a result of the approval of the City of Detroit's Bankruptcy Plan approved on December 10, 2014.

For June 30, 2015 the beginning net position was restated (decreased) for a prior period adjustment in total of $839 million ($378.3 and $460.5 million; for Water, Sewer, respectively), and net pension liability of $521.6 million ($224.3 and $297.3 million; for Water, Sewer, respectively).

The General Retirement System of City of Detroit GASB 68 Report for June 30, 2015 is not available at this time. However, based on the impact of the bankruptcy, the GASB 67 actuary report for June 30, 2015, the net pension liability in total will decrease from $1.786 billion as reported in the City's June 30, 2015 audited financial statements to $827 million<sup>1</sup>. DWSD's net pension liability will decrease by its allocable share.

The DWSD net pension liability will also decrease by the contributions made in FY 2015 recognized on July 1, 2015. The total deferrals for these contributions are $45.5 million ($19.6 and $25.9 million; for Water, Sewer, respectively).

Re: System Optimization Recommendation

Introduction

As GLWA has identified its role in the region as the water service provider of choice, we work in partnership with our customers to deliver the nation's best water and sewer services. We support public health and safety and economic development in the region. We do this through regional collaboration, innovation and by building communities' trust and integrity.

Background

The term System Optimization is a broad planning-level term that encompasses matters related to making the water and wastewater systems (Systems) more effective. It is important to distinguish the challenges facing us today from those in the past where the term "system expansion" was used. Today, we seek to balance the systems' capabilities for the needs of the region rather than simply expanding them. As such, we are turning a corner in our naming convention to more accurately frame the initiative as System Optimization.

In the water system where excess capacity presently exists, we seek to match treatment capacity to the systems needs and increase the utilization to achieve this balance. Working both sides of the issue is a more productive and effective way to strike the balance than relying on working the element of reducing capacity alone to get to the optimum balance. In the wastewater system, where we have excess dry weather capacity but have yet to fully meet the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality's requirements regarding handling of wet weather flows, striking a balance requires additional analysis as well as creative and broadthinking. The Wastewater Master Plan update initiative is underway with the charge to take up this very complex issue and provide recommendations for a plan to move forward and achieve this balance.

Presently the Great Lakes Water Authority (GLWA) does not have a policy or a guideline associated with System Optimization. The purpose of this memorandum is to summarize the engagement of the Board and customers to date and to present a recommendation to the Board regarding how best to give structure to the important question of how to consider and analyze the prospect of adding new customers to the Systems.

Collaboration To-Date

In the spirit of the commitment to collaboration evidenced in the GLWA brand, staff have introduced the topic of System Optimization on two different fronts in the last couple months to receive feedback before making a recommendation:

- On June 16, 2016 customers were polled at a joint Technical Advisory Committee and Wastewater Steering Committee to spur conversation and gather feedback regarding which elements of this topic were most important (results of the survey and a listing of meeting attendees are attached).
- On July 1, 2016 management introduced the Board to the topic through a family of documents at the Board's Audit Committee. Staff did not request action from the Audit Committee, rather the topic was simply introduced to initiate conversation and solicit feedback. Since that time, the information was provided to all Directors for their review and comment. The packet included an option for the GLWA Board of Directors to use a refreshed version of the 2008 Board of Water Commissioner's Capital Cost Assessment policy. This was to be augmented with a guidance memorandum. Additional materials include the result of the customer survey and a document that provided examples of financial analyses for a hypothetical water system extension. Questions from Directors were received and compiled along with answers from staff. (Board documents and a question and answer documents are attached).

As System Optimization topics are discussed again at the Audit Committee in August 5, 2016, it is expected that the topic will be added for discussion to the agenda for the Board Workshop on August 10, 2016.

Conclusions and Recommendation

Having taken the feedback received into consideration, management has concluded that the best approach to this complex matter is to create a guideline document rather than a Board Policy. The guideline will identify elements of a thorough analysis that is to be completed during the period of consideration of a prospective new customer. The analysis would be published concurrently with staff brining a new customer contract to the Board for its consideration. This approach directs staff to consider a prospective new customer's service through seven distinct lenses:

- 1) Impact on water quality;
- 2) Impact on service reliability;
- 3) Impact on existing customers;
- 4) Ability to leverage the use of existing system assets;
- 5) Interface or concurrence with planning documents;
- 6) Impact on long term financial stability of the Systems;
- 7) Benefits to the region.

An open approach such as this allows staff the flexibility to consider all the unique circumstances of each potential new customer and come to a conclusion based on the totality of the prospect, rather than concentrating on what is necessary to satisfy a specific quantifiable target. As such, it should produce better results for consideration by the Board and customers of the system.

A draft of the guideline, which is entitled System Optimization Guidelines, has been attached for your review and comment.

Planning Services Area Guideline

From: Great Lakes Water Authority Management

Re: System Optimization Guideline

To ensure good strategic decision-making and provide the Board of Directors sufficient information by which to adequately assess the benefit of adding new customers to the systems, staff has developed this guideline document. It is intended to serve as a roadmap for staff to follow to ensure that appropriate steps are taken and that a very thorough analysis has been completed prior to taking specific prospects to the Board for approval.

1) Initial Discussions with Prospective Customers

It is understood that staff will likely engage in conversations with prospective new customers initially in a confidential manner so that facts may be exchanged and level of interest understood prior to openly discussing the prospect. It is expected at this point that a variety of technical and financial analyses may be undertaken to fully understand the feasibility of prospects. Beyond this, prospective customers may want tours, questions answered about types of service and the ability to otherwise gain an understanding of the GLWA and its service to its existing customers. Staff are encouraged to reasonably oblige potential customers in this regard until such a time as it is clear that serious interest is sustained or that water service from GLWA is not the preferred alternative for the community.

2) Regional Analysis and Internal Approvals

If initial discussions yield continuing interest by both parties, staff will initiate a multifaceted analysis that contains the following elements looking from a regional perspective:

- 1. Impact on water quality;
- 2. Impact on service reliability;
- 3. Impact on existing customers;
- 4. Ability to leverage the use of existing system assets;
- 5. Interface or concurrence with planning documents;
- 6. Impact on long term financial stability of the Systems;
- 7. Benefits to the region.

It should be noted that some of these factors are quantifiable while others are intangible and more difficult to consider from an analytical perspective. These non-quantifiable factors should be analyzed by writings which seek to identify the positive and negative qualitative elements in their respective categories. If after conducting these analyses, staff believe the prospect of adding this specific customer to the system is favorable, the analyses are to be combined into a single document and the document is to be submitted it in draft form to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) for further consideration. If the CEO finds the analyses adequate and the prospect favorable, staff will be directed to generate specific draft cost proposals for both service charges and capital improvements, if applicable. It is expected that financing options may be illustrated at this time for discussion purposes as well as prospects for cost sharing with the GLWA, if appropriate. Cost proposals at this stage are all to be clearly marked draft and it is to be openly communicated to the prospective customer that Board has final approval of all service charges and customer agreements.

3) Negotiations and Board Consideration

At this stage, the CEO and appropriate staff will engage with the prospective customer to communicate the cost proposals and negotiate various elements of the prospect in a confidential manner. If the negotiations yield an acceptable agreement of terms, the CEO will direct staff to prepare a draft contract for consideration by the Board of Directors. At which time both the draft contract and the Regional Analysis document will be placed on a Board agenda for formal and public consideration. It is also expected that the prospective customer will begin to publically engage other members of their governing body to consider the prospect.

RE: DRAFT – SYSTEM OPTIMIZATION POLICY

GUIDELINES FOR SYSTEM EXTENSIONS

BACKGROUND

Historically the Board of Water Commissioners (BOWC) executed policies related to system extensions. For use today by GLWA, we considering these historic discussions and those going forward as "System Optimization" opportunities. By way of example, system optimization opportunities in this context include the following:

- Potential utilization of excess capacity such extending a transmission main to add a new customer;
- Opportunities to provide increased levels of service for existing customers, such as looping to provide an additional feed; or
- Other actions that create incentives for customers to collaborate with GLWA or other customers which result in avoidance of operating or capital expenditures or otherwise maximize the use of existing infrastructure.

In November 1998 the BOWC adopted a Policy that effectively stated that "Growth Pays for Growth". In 2004 when the Model Water Service contract was developed, there were many community meetings conducted with the customers. There was not a consensus on the definitions of growth and system extension. On May 28, 2008 the BOWC adopted a Capital Cost Assessment Policy that replaced the 1998 System Expansion Policy. The Capital Cost Assessment Policy directed proportional cost sharing of capital improvements in circumstances where the new infrastructure will be sized to accommodate both the customer making the request and other existing or potential future customers. An additional component of costing to prospective customers is the fixed and commodity charges that are developed each year. Many factors are used to develop these charges and among them are the distance from the centroid of the existing water treatment plants and elevation of the prospective customer's service point(s). Given that addition of new customers to the system will likely occur primarily at the fringes of the service district, the ongoing charges for new customers tend to be higher than those of existing customers and in some cases make the prospect of joining the system not cost effective. From a historical perspective, the cost of various system optimization elements is considered a highly important topic to our customers.

WHY THIS IS PERTINENT TODAY

As is commonly understood, a large portion operating costs of the water and sewer system (collectively "systems") are fixed. Additionally, the recent Water System Master Plan Update has demonstrated that the water system has excess capacity and that extending the system to provide looping for customers along dead-end transmission mains is a good business practice. For these reasons, adding customers to the systems has significant potential to reduce costs to existing customers and in some cases provide increases in level of service for existing customers. Management is presently pursuing several opportunities to extend the systems and is considering options for configuration and costs of extensions. At this time, it is important for management to discuss this topic with members of the Board of Directors so as to ensure that the steps moving forward are within the preference of the Board. As such this document has been prepared to create an opportunity for discussion on the topic, receive direction regarding whether the former DWSD Capital Cost Assessment Policy should be brought forward as a GLWA System Optimization policy and if so, identify appropriate guidelines for its application to potential new customers.

RECOMMENDATION FOR EXTENSIONS

It is recommended that the GLWA Board move forward using the substantive language in the former Policy, updated only to reflect the GLWA as the regional authority and the pivot from "Expansion" to "Optimization". Additionally, it is recommended that the following principles be utilized to the extent possible, while applying the Policy to a new or existing customer:

- 1) The overarching goal of acceptability to both the System and the Customer is clear in that if both are not comfortable that the prospect is beneficial from their individual perspectives, the extension will not be made.
- 2) The following elements are to be considered when preparing cost estimates: All construction related costs including but not limited to contingencies, engineering and legal costs, right-of-way acquisition, debt service, increased operations and maintenance expenses, and increased revenue.
- 3) It is preferable for the payback period for the common-to-all portion of the project, if any, to be less than or equal to one-half of the remainder of the contract term. The goal being to provide an acceptable return on investment over a reasonable period of time.
- 4) The System's net cash flow for the project shall remain neutral or positive through the life of the project financing. This may be accomplished in two ways:
  - a. The Customer may fund the entire project, or its portion of the entire project, initially, with payback from the GLWA for any common-to-all elements over a period of years.
  - b. The increase in the Customer's net revenue exceeds the debt service for the project throughout the life of the debt.
- 5) If it is determined that the simple proportional cost sharing principle noted in the Policy alone does not satisfy these principles, an advancement fee may be calculated and imposed on the Customer to make the prospect acceptable to the GLWA.
- 6) All prospective cost sharing arrangements are to be specifically presented to the Board of Directors for approval prior to the drafting of a contract.

DWSD Directive NO. 08—1 DETROIT WATER AND SEWERAGE DEPARTMENT GREAT LAKES WATER AUTHORITY CAPITAL COST ASSESSMENTSYSTEM OPTIMIZATION POLICY

It is the policy of the Board of Directors of the Great Lakes Water Authority Water Commissioners to ensure that capital costs related to new service requests and requests for additional service be appropriately assessed. This Capital Cost AssessmentSystem Optimization Policy (Policy) contains criteria that the Detroit Water and Sewerage DepartmentGreat Lakes Water Authority (DWSDGLWA) will use to evaluate requests for wholesale water and sewage services provided by DWSD-GLWA through its water and wastewater systems (collectively, "System"). It applies to requests for service from new customers of the DWSD-GLWA System and to requests for additional service connections from existing System customers. This Policy contains the guidelines for determining how the capital costs associated with the service request will be applied. As used in this Policy, the term "Customer" refers to both new and existing customers.

Criteria For Evaluations of Service Request

- The Customer must make a written request for the service it seeks from DWSDGLWA.
- The Customer must have an approved service contract with DWSD.
- DWSD-GLWA must determine that granting the Customer's request will not adversely affect DWSD's GLWA's ability to serve its existing customers. The Customer shall furnish all information reasonably required by DWSD-GLWA to evaluate the service request.
- Admission to the DWSD-GLWA water system does not guarantee admission to DWSD's GLWA's sewage system, and vice versa. A separate request must be made for each service desired.

Guidelines for Assessing Capital Costs

- A Customer shall pay all costs associated with connecting its system to DWSD's GLWA's System.
- If it is necessary to extend a DWSD-GLWA water transmission main or sewage interceptor to service the Customer, the Customer shall pay the capital costs associated with the infrastructure extension. If DWSD-GLWA determines that the infrastructure will be sized to accommodate service to additional customers, the Customer shall pay the proportional cost of the new infrastructure attributable to its anticipated use of the infrastructure.
- Any DWSDGLWA-owned infrastructure deemed by DWSD-GLWA to benefit other Customers of the DWSD-System (including the cost of infrastructure referenced above that is not directly assigned to the Customer on a proportional basis) will be allocated on a "common-to-all" basis.
- Capital costs related to existing assets that will be utilized to serve the Customer will be recovered in the rates on the same basis applied to existing customers.

RE: Water System Extension Alternatives

Background:

In order to attract new wholesale water customers to the GLWA system, management will need to determine a "best practice" approach that will extend existing infrastructure to new customers and will also take advantage of projects already in the CIP or long term master plan. GLWA will also need to develop a cost allocation methodology in which the new customer pays its proportional share of the extension of the infrastructure but is still economically feasible for the new customer.

Regional Extension Policy:

In 2008 a Capital Cost Assessment Policy was approved by the Board of Water Commissioners. This policy contains guidelines for how the capital costs associated with a new service request would be applied. For the purpose of this analysis, we are working within the parameters of the BOWC policy. Here are guidelines:

- A Customer shall pay all costs associated with connecting its system to DWSD's (GLWA's) System.
- If it is necessary to extend a DWSD (GLWA) water transmission main or sewage interceptor to service the Customer, the Customer shall pay the capital costs associated with the infrastructure extension. If DWSD (GLWA) determines that the infrastructure will be sized to accommodate service to additional customers, the Customer shall pay the proportional cost of the new infrastructure attributable to its anticipated use of the infrastructure.
- Any DWSD (GLWA)-owned infrastructure deemed by DWSD (GLWA) to benefit other Customers of the DWSD (GLWA) System (including the cost of infrastructure referenced above that is not directly assigned to the Customer on a proportional basis) will be allocated on a "common-to-all" basis.
- Capital costs related to existing assets that will be utilized to serve the Customer will be recovered in the rates on the same basis applied to existing customers.

Customer Assumptions:

"Customer A" is a community on the edge of the GLWA service area. They have reached out to GLWA management to determine if service extension is possible and what the anticipated costs will be. Below are the service characteristics of Customer A:

- 3.5 MGD Max Day. 3.5 MGD Peak Hour capacity;
- 61,000 mcf annual flow;
- One 16 inch meter- average distance 33.5 miles, elevation 946 ft;
- Assumed annual revenue requirement (based on FY 2017 model): $1,687,400, increased by 4% each year after.

Project Alternatives:

In developing capital cost analysis, we have proposed two project alternatives. A graphic example of the proposed projects is attached on page 6.

Scenario #1: Construction of a single feed 42 inch transmission main. Pipe capacity is sized to service new customer's current and future needs. Project cost is $24 million.

Scenario #2: Construction of a 54 inch transmission main. Pipe capacity is sized to meet new customer demands and future System demands. This main may be extended in the future to provide looping to another transmission main, with benefits to the System. Project cost is $29 million.

Capital Cost Allocation Methods:

To remain consistent with the current capital assessment policy in allocating the capital cost, we need to determine the new customer's proportionate share of each scenario above. After determining this allocation, then the appropriate financing needs to be established as well. In all of the allocation methods discussed, the pay-back provisions will not have a negative financial impact on the rest of the System customers. Furthermore, in all pay-back alternatives, the costs will be recovered over the life of the bond issue associated with the project (not over the life of the assets) and will be a direct pass through to Customer A and the common to all cost pool. All annual debt service assumptions are based on the average annual debt service payment at an assumed interest rate.

Scenario #1, Alternative A:

Since Scenario #1 is for the benefit of Customer A and does not include up-sizing for use of additional customers, all of the project costs are allocable to Customer A. Alternative A, in the included cashflow, shows no GLWA financed capital, with the estimated annual revenue requirement (net of a 10% reduction for O & M costs) from Customer A, which provide a benefit to System customers by reducing their shares of the total revenue requirement. This would be an acceptable alternative, based on the positive cashflow provided to System customers.

Scenario #1, Alternative B:

Alternative B, in the included cashflow, shows GLWA financed capital, payable over 15 years (half of a 30 year model contract). The costs of the project also include a 10% allowance for financing transactional costs. We have also assumed the debt service payments will be augmented by 20% to meet the MBO 1.2x coverage requirement. Additionally, the first 2 years of interest will be payable from Customer A as an initial payment to GLWA. The estimated annual revenue requirement from Customer A remain the same as Alternative A, however, the cashflow from customer A's revenue requirement is insufficient to meet the debt service on the bonds over the 15 year payback period. Given the proposed cashflow, only a bond size of $18,000,000 could be supported. If the annual Customer A revenue shortfalls were allocated to the common to all cost pool, it would take 18 years to recover those costs.

Scenario #1, Alternative C:

Alternative B, in the included cashflow, shows GLWA financed capital, payable over 20 years but would require a 40 year contract term. Alternative C includes the same assumptions as Alternative B. , however, the cashflow from customer A's revenue requirement is still insufficient to meet the debt service on the bonds even with a 20 year payback period. Given the proposed cashflow, only a bond size of $22,000,000 could be supported. If the annual Customer A revenue shortfalls were allocated to the common to all cost pool, it would take 16 years to recover those costs.

For the assumptions above, with the proposed annual revenue requirement it would take approximately 43 years to pay back a bond issue of $26.4 million.

Scenario #2, Alternative A:

Scenario #2 is for the benefit of Customer A and also includes up-sizing for use of additional customers. In this scenario, only the proportional share of the project costs are allocable to Customer A with the remaining costs treated as a common to all expense. In this case, the proportional share for Customer A is determined as a percentage of the total pipe capacity, based on gallons per minute ("gpm"). Customer A has a flow rate of 5,800 gpm and the total pipe capacity of 15,000 gpm, therefore the cost of the project is allocated 38% to Customer A and 62% as common to all. In the included cashflow, shows Customer A financing their allocated share on its own and GLWA financed capital only for the common to all allocation. The cashflow shows the additional revenue from Customer A (net of a 10% reduction for O & M costs) used as an offset to the common to all debt service. It is assumed the debt service will be repaid over the life of a 30 year bond issue, which includes the 20% increase for coverage requirements. This would also be an acceptable alternative, based on the positive cashflow provided to System customers.

Scenario #2, Alternative B:

Alternative B includes the same assumptions as Alternative A, except it includes financing of Customer A's allocated share of the project by GLWA in addition to the common to all portion of the project. It is assumed that Customer A will repay the debt service over 15 years (half of a 30 year model contract) and it will prepay the capitalized interest as an up-front cost. The estimated annual revenue requirement from Customer A remain the same as Alternative A, however, the cashflow from customer

A's revenue requirement is insufficient to meet the debt service on the bonds over the 15 year payback period. Given the proposed cashflow, only a bond size of $4,775,000 could be supported for the CTA share. The other item of concern in this alternative is how the capitalized interest on the common to all financing is addressed. If the annual Customer A revenue shortfalls were allocated to the common to all cost pool, it would take 25 years to recover those costs.

Financing Considerations:

If GLWA sells bonds to finance any or all of this project, there are a few policy decisions that need to be considered:

- GLWA Financing of New Customer Extension: Is there a System benefit to financing a new customer extension instead of the customer financing its share of the project on its own? For the purpose of this analysis, we have looked at both alternatives, with the expectation that any financing on behalf of a new customer would not have a negative financial impact on System customers.
- Separate Bond Issue vs. Part of a Larger Issue: Should GLWA issue a separate series of bonds for new customer projects? This would increase transparency on the costs, fees allocation of debt service, however if it were financed as part of a larger transaction, the transactional costs could be reduced through the economies of scale achieved by spreading those costs to the other projects financed with the larger issue.
- Payback Period: How long will GLWA allow new customers to finance its share of a project, if at all? Our current pay-back assumption allows for a new customer to repay the cost of the extension over half the remaining term of a contract. If it is a new, 30 year contract, the payments could not be extended past 15 years. This method allows the System as a whole to realize a reasonable time period of additional revenues that have a common to all benefit.
- Capitalized Interest: It is assumed that construction for each of the scenarios would take about 24 months. During that time period there would be no revenues generated by the new customer to GLWA, however in a GLWA financing scenario, there will be interest accruing, and payments required on bonds issued for this project. If there are no revenues from the new customer, than does this expense fall to the rest of the System customers? Our assumption is to require the new customer to contribute the capitalized interest as an up-front cost.
- Coverage Requirements: Per GLWA's Master Bond Ordinance ("MBO"), GLWA must set its budgeted charges to provide 1.2 times coverage on its senior lien debt outstanding.
  It is our assumption that any debt issued herein would be senior lien debt, and the coverage requirement would be passed through to the new customer, for its allocable share or the Common to All cost pool, for its allocable share of bonds issued.

Status Quo Financing of Common to All Assets: Currently, projects are financed by GLWA and recovered through the cost allocation and service charge methodology, which allocates all capital costs based on fixed asset records and over the life of the assets instead of the term of the financing. This also represents a higher cost due to how legacy fixed asset financing costs are carried under the current methodology. This could reduce the common to all annual expense, but increase the over-all cost over the life of the assets.

Going Forward:

Given the proposed revenue requirement for Customer A in this analysis, it is clear the costs allocated to the new customer should be financed by the customer. In each of the alternatives presented, the cashflow which include GLWA financing the Customer A portion of the project negatively impact the System customers. If it were determined that GLWA was willing to finance Customer A's portion, we could have discussions with the customer about contractual arrangements in which they would agree to pay for those costs over and above their revenue requirement. The down side to this alternative is with the additional costs, it may make the GLWA approach less (or no longer) economically feasible.

Future Decisions for GLWA:

- Does GLWA want to finance new customer portion of extension projects?
- In relation to a wholesale model contract, how long is GLWA willing to recover those costs?
- What are other ways to determine proportionality of a combined project?
- Does the current policy need to be updated?
- How will any changes to the water revenue requirement allocation methodology effect the payback assumptions?

Re: Cost Sharing Examples

As staff considered the prospect of potential new customers, it was thought to be prudent to consider how other large utilities are addressing cost sharing of system extensions. As such, research was conducted and the following examples were identified:

City of Cleveland, Tennessee

- The utility's Board pays one-half the cost of waterline extensions outside the city, with the customer providing the other half.
- Sewer extensions outside the city are decided on a case-by-case basis. If approved, the developer pays the entire cost.

City of Oak Ridge, Tennessee

- All extensions require the developers to finance.
- City expenditures for interceptors or mains must be recoverable within 10 years.
- Several methods of financing are allowed.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Utilities (CMU) Extension Policy, North Carolina

- Reimbursable Capital facilities which are normally provided by CMU but are not in place, may be financed by a customer in order to expedite the construction.
- Upon completion and final acceptance of the Facility, the customer is reimbursed for eligible costs of the project.
- The customer is required to enter into a contract with the City of Charlotte stating that CMU will design the requested Facility, acquire any necessary rights of way and permits and construct the facility in accordance with North Carolina General Statutes.
- The customer is required to pay a deposit at the time he or she executes the contract. The deposit amount is required to be sufficient to pay the cost of design and right of way acquisition and shall be established by CMU.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Utilities (CMU) Extension Policy, North Carolina (Cont'd)

- Once construction cost is determined, the customer is required to make available to CMU the balance of funds to construct the project.
- There are multiple options for reimbursement:
  - 5-Year Reimbursement Program:
    - Contracting customer is reimbursed all of the eligible funds he has deposited for the project.
    - The amount reimbursed will not include any interest, carrying charges, financing costs, or other funds other than the actual face value amounts deposited by the customer.
    - The customer will receive 20% of the eligible deposited amount in each of five annual payments.
    - The first annual payment will be made one year from the date CMU accepts the total project as complete and available for activation.
    - The customer will be required to pay any acreage fees which are applicable, including those resulting from his project. Acreage fees are not eligible for reimbursement.
  - o 15-Year Reimbursement Program:
    - Contracting customer is not guaranteed total reimbursement of eligible deposited funds.
    - Reimbursement payments are made annually beginning one year from the date CMU activates the total project.
    - The CMU activation date begins the 15-year reimbursement period.
    - The amount of each annual reimbursement payment will be the sum of collected acreage fees attributable to the project and 35% of sewer or water user fees which result directly from the project and are collected that year.

Lincoln County Public Works Department, North Carolina

- All extension requests shall be reviewed by the 'Department'.
- The Department prepares a feasibility study for the project, which includes cost estimates for extension of utility lines to serve the 'properties' requesting service and a payback analysis.
- The payback analysis includes project construction costs, sewer disposal and/or water supply costs and all revenue to the Department from the area to be served.
- Feasibility of a project is determined by the Board of Commissioners, based on the results of the payback analysis and/or the construction costs of the necessary improvements.
- A feasible project is to have a payback period of not less than 10 years, or revenues that total at least 50% of the cost of construction when calculating the payback period.
- Projects may be disapproved if funds are not available.

System Optimization Questions and Answers

August 2016

1) Is GLWA management suggesting a change?

Yes, presently GLWA does not have a policy or guideline regarding system optimization. Management is recommending the use of an internal guideline document to add structure to this topic and is seeking comment from Directors and customers on the substance of the quideline.

2) Are we readopting the former DWSD capital cost assessment policy or is GLWA management seeking a policy change?

Management is not presently recommending adopting the former Board of Water Commissioner's (BOWC) Capital Cost Assessment policy nor is it recommending a policy change. That option was put on the table in draft form in July however after receiving feedback and considering the matter further, management is recommending the use of a guideline document which prescribes a family of specific analyses to be performed and published on a case by case basis when considering the prospect of adding a new customer.

3) Are the six principles to be utilized new principles?

Yes, the six principles that were identified in the draft Guidelines for System Extensions document that was distributed in July were new thoughts. These thoughts have now been incorporated in a broader guideline document entitled System Optimization Guideline. It has been attached for your consideration.

4) How do these principles compare to the current policy?

The former BOWC policy considered only capital costs associated with new service requests. Management has broadened this idea significantly. The System Optimization Guideline prescribes a that staff take a regional view and conduct a family of analyses that cover the tangible, quantifiable and intangible elements of the prospect of adding a customer.

5) What have other more well established utilities done?

Attached is a memorandum which identifies some examples of utility capital cost sharing for system extensions. In researching other utilities, we have not come across examples of prescribed guidance such as what is being suggested at this time by Management.

6) What/ is the impact on our current customer base that may have joined under the old policy?

Impacts on current community customers will vary depending on the prospect being considered. As such, the guideline requires a specific analysis for impact to current customers.

7) Has the new policy been developed through the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) already?

Customers of the TAC have been polled to gather their input on what considerations are most important. The items that customers considered to be top priorities were folded into the seven specific elements identified in the System Optimization Guideline.

- 8) What policies do OMID, for example, use for new customers?
  - Our understanding that OMID does not have a policy related to new customers rather due to its governance, it has specific requirements regarding how and which communities are to be included in the drainage district as prescribe by the Michigan Drain Code.
- 9) Do we need a consultant to advise us?

Management does not believe a consultant is necessary given that it is recommending a broad set of guidelines at this time and decisions will then be made on a case by case basis. Nevertheless, if professional consultation is preferred by the Board, management will pursue that direction.

10) Didn't GLWA always want and encourage new customers and seek looping opportunities?

Whether or not to encourage or entice new customers to the join the system has been debated by staff and customer communities at different times throughout the years. Looping opportunities have always been good business practice and yes, staff has looked at system extensions for looping opportunities.

- 11) Haven't our new customers typically been at the farthest distance? What has changed? Yes, typically new customers are at the fringes of the system. What has changed is the significant and likely permanent decrease in water consumption by our customers coupled with the loss of large customers in recent years. The 2015 Water Master Plan identified the patterns of water use and the system's significant excess capacity. As such the desire to add customers to the system to increase its use is more urgent today than it was five or ten years ago.
- 12) Are you suggesting we go away from the policy of growth now that we have excess capacity?

Yes, management sees the "growth pays for growth" model as too narrow for today's circumstance.

13) What about the intent to reduce 1-2 water treatment plants instead?

Staff is moving forward with the initiative to decease capacity by repurposing treatment facilities. Adding customers to the system increases demands and expedites our efforts in finding a balance between capacity and demands and is also good for the long term financial stability of the System.

- 14) How would a change impact our CIP, financial forecast and master plans?

  Using the guideline, the analyses prescribed would provide detail regarding concurrence with the planning documents as well as the long term financial stability of each prospective new customer on a case by case basis.
- 15) While new customers only add 10% to our costs, this is on a marginal basis and every existing community could make the argument that they only add on 10% costs. Slippery slope concern?

Presently staff is not suggesting a change to the model of water or wastewater customer charges. As such, it is not likely that the System Optimization Guideline would lead to the slippery slope concern that was raised. It should be noted that as the repurposing of the Northeast Water Treatment Plant becomes closer to a reality the distance and elevation factors in the charges model will come into question. Staff has been considering how best to engage our customers in a conversation around this topic.

16) How would policy change affect communities with model water contracts/favored nation's clause?

The answer to this question will be given on a case by case basis as the System Optimization Guideline will require an analysis on the impact to existing customers. Please note that at this time management is not considering making changes to the model service agreement or service charge model.

- 17) How does the change affect those who have recently joined?
  - The answer to this question will be given on a case by case basis as the System Optimization Guideline will require an analysis on the impact to existing customers including those who have recently joined.
- 18) Is the KWA our main competition for processed water?

  Competition for processed water comes from KWA as well as communities who have their own water well systems or others who will request and receive permission to withdraw water from surface water bodies such as lakes and rivers.
- 19) How do we lock in KWA's most likely new customers into a long-term GLWA deal?

  Because each individual potential customer is unique in its needs, marketing GLWA drinking water services is not a one-size fits all. As such, a marketing approach would have to be developed. As the Planning Service Area expands its staffing, it is anticipated that a specific focus will be able to be made on marketing water services.

20) Is it fair to offer these customers a better deal than our existing communities that have already signed long-term deals with us?

At present, management is not considering making a change to the model contract terms or service charge model. As such, the current negotiations with prospective customers contain the same cost elements that exist for current customers. It is however possible that attracting customers that will benefit the system in the long term may require short term special circumstances to entice them into signing a long term contract. Prospects and questions such as this have led management to developing the guideline/analyses approach. This type of broad thinking will provide the latitude to consider such prospects in their entirety at the time their details are known and for Board members to make a decision on a case by case basis considering all the factors.

- 21) How does this policy differ for water vs. sewer customers? It does not.
- 22) Who are our most likely new sewer customers?

  Most likely new sewer customers exist in the County and OMID's sewer systems as they are on the fringes of the system.
- 23) Do we have sewage over capacity?

  We have excess dry weather capacity however we are not yet in full compliance with the MDEQ's requirements for treatment of wet weather flow. We have permit requirements that require us to make final decisions regarding our long term strategies for wet weather compliance in the next five years.
- 24) What community representatives responded to the System Expansion Survey? Was it primarily DPW Directors or Finance Directors, City Managers/Mayors?

  Please find attached the community survey results along with a listing of the people who attended that meeting. They were primarily DPW staff members.
- 25) Is there a plan for potential new customers that would also use the upsized pipe?

  Long terms planning for new customers beyond our present service district has not yet been undertaken. However, opportunities abound as the economy strengthens.
- 26) What does the rate of return look like for all scenarios when run for 40 years?

  Because we have not opted to pursue the approach presented in July, staff has not updated the hypothetical examples for a 40-year duration. However, when staff complete the portion of the analyses pertaining to long term financial stability for specific new customers, we will run the rate of return out to year 40.
- 27) What is the incentive for new and existing customers?

  Incentives vary widely depending on particular community circumstances. Some that are driving communities to inquire today about service include: improved water quality in taste, color and odor; avoided cost for local capital investment in existing water treatment facilities; and avoidance of the need to run small distributed water systems which are subject to increasingly stringent regulations.

28) Why was the statement 'The Customer must have an approved services contract with DWSD (i.e. now GLWA)' removed from the document?

This was removed because of its placement in the document. In the context of the document, the statement was under the section entitled "Criteria for Evaluations of Service Requests". Staff does not believe that having an approved service contract should be a prerequisite to the evaluation of the prospect. Rather, if the evaluation yields a conclusion that a new service contract is beneficial, GLWA staff would aspire to obtain an approved service contract at the end of the negotiation.

Re: Ordinances to Amend Master Water and Sewer Bond Ordinances

Background: On October 7, 2015 the Great Lakes Water Authority ("GLWA") Board approved and adopted the Master Bond Ordinances ("MBO") for the water and sewer systems, Ordinance No. 2015-01 and 2015-02, respectively. The proposed amendments to the MBO, included for this committee's review, are related to

Analysis:

The following amendments were identified in both the water and sewer ordinances:

- Section 101- Substitution of the definition of "Reserve Requirement"
- Section 201- Adds the word Water/Sewer, respectively to designate the DWSD Bonds
- Section 506- Adds "Debt Service Account" of the Bond Interest and Redemption Fund
- Section 519, Replaces "into the Surplus Fund" with "as provided in Section 506(b)"

Proposed Action: Audit Committee recommends that the Great Lakes Water Authority Board approve Ordinance No. 2016-07, Ordinance to Amend Master Bond Ordinance No. 2015-02 and Ordinance No. 2016-06, Ordinance to Amend Master Bond Ordinance No. 2015-01 as presented, at its regular meeting on August 10, 2016.

RATIONALE FOR A SPRINGING AMENDMENT TO GLWA MASTER BOND ORDINANCES

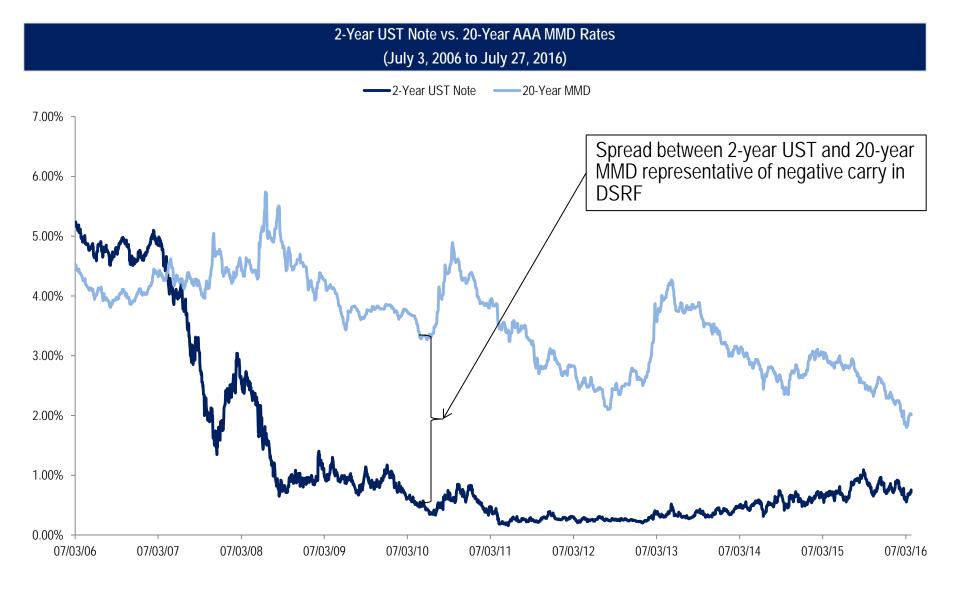

In conjunction with the refunding transactions, GLWA will be incorporating a "springing amendment" in both the Water and Sewer bond ordinances related to the Debt Service Reserve Fund ("DSRF") requirement.

- "Springing amendment" would allow GLWA the option to reduce the reserve requirement when:
  - Senior lien rating is in AA category or higher by two rating agencies
  - Confirmation that the reduction in the DSRF will not result in a downgrade
  - 51% of the outstanding bondholders have consented to the provision
    - New bondholders would be consenting to the provision as a part of purchasing bonds
    - 2016 refunding could provide approximately 25% and 50% of consent on the water senior and second lien, respectively, with additional consents received on the new money
    - 2016 refunding could provide approximately 3% and 45% of consent on the sewer senior and second lien, respectively
- Current DSRF requirement at lesser of:
  - Maximum annual debt service
  - 125% average annual debt service
  - 10% of par
  - Average annual debt service (Sewer Second only)
- DSRF provides an extra level of protection for investors
  - Required by investors and rating agencies at GLWA's current rating levels
  - Not as necessary at higher rating categories

- DSRF historically funded with bond proceeds or with a surety bond by a qualified credit provider
- Cost of maintaining the DSRF is high
  - Interest rates on debt are higher than GLWA can invest the DSRF money (shown on following page)
  - Cost and availability of sureties are more onerous
- Existing sureties are scheduled to begin expiring in 2022, which may require GLWA to put in more cash to the DSRF or fund new surety policies, both at potentially higher costs
- The springing amendments could significantly reduce the cost to GLWA if it obtains AA category ratings

Financial Services Group Audit Committee Communication

Date: August 5, 2016

To: Great Lakes Water Authority Audit Committee

From: Jon Wheatley, Public Finance Manager

Re: Resolution Regarding Approval of Series Ordinance Authorizing Issuance and Sale of Sewage Disposal System Revenue Refunding Bonds an Amount Not to Exceed $600,000,000 (Ordinance 2016-09)

Background: In order for the Great Lakes Water Authority ("GLWA") to proceed with the refunding of various sewer outstanding bonds for the purpose of achieving annual debt service savings, the GLWA Board must approve the included resolution approving the Series Ordinance. There is not new money as part of this sewer refunding bond issue.

The Series Ordinance sets forth the guidelines for the Refunding Bonds and authorizes the Chief Executive Officer of the Chief Financial Officer to execute the final terms of the Bonds, paying issuance costs and signing of the Bond Purchase Agreement, within the parameters set forth in the Series Ordinance. The final par amount of the Refunding Bonds will be determined at the time of pricing and is based on current bond market pricing levels, issuance costs and the par amount of the bonds to be refunded as determined by the savings level achieved. While the approval of the resolution gives GLWA the authorization to issue refunding bonds, GLWA does not have to proceed with the refunding if market conditions become less favorable when it comes time to price the bonds.

Key Provisions: Includes the following.

Not to Exceed Par Amount: $600 million

• Maximum Coupon Rate: 5.75%

Minimum Purchase Price: 99% of principal amount of bonds

• Maximum Underwriter Discount: 0.35% of principal amount of bonds

 Present Value Savings: Equal to or greater than 7.00% of principal amount of bonds to be refunded Additional Provisions: New to the Sewer Series Ordinance No. 2016-09 is Section 21Amendments to Ordinance. As noted on page 20, this section provides for a "springing amendment" dealing with the ability of GLWA to reduce or eliminate the bond reserve requirement for the senior lien bonds when at least 2 of the 3 national rating agencies rate the senior lien bonds in the AA category, provided that the reduction in the reserve requirement would not negatively affect the outstanding ratings. The amendments will become effective upon the deemed consent of at least 51% of the holders of the outstanding senior lien bonds. GLWA will add this springing amendment to each future series ordinance to obtain the 51% consent level.

The reduction or elimination of the bond reserve requirement would free up some or all of the cash in those funds (currently about $89.3 million combined senior and second lien reserves) that can be transferred to the Receiving Fund or the Surplus Fund, as directed by GLWA.

Proposed Action: Audit Committee recommends that the Great Lakes Water Authority Board approve the resolution Approval of Series Ordinance Authorizing Issuance and Sale of Sewage Disposal System Revenue Refunding Bonds an Amount Not to Exceed $600,000,000 as presented, at its regular meeting on August 10, 2016.

Section 6. Concerning the Securities Depository.

"Beneficial Owner" means any Person who indirectly owns 2016 Refunding Bonds pursuant to the indirect ownership system maintained by the Securities Depository and its Participants, commonly known as the "Book-Entry Only System."

"Participant" means any Person whose ownership of 2016 Refunding Bonds is shown on books of the Securities Depository.

While the 2016 Refunding Bonds are registered in the name of a Securities Depository or its nominee, neither the Authority nor the Trustee shall have any responsibility or obligation to any Participant or to any Beneficial Owner with respect to any matter, including the following:
  - (1) the accuracy of the records of the Securities Depository, its nominee or any Participant with respect to any ownership interest in 2016 Refunding Bonds,
  - the delivery to any Participant, Beneficial Owner or any other Person other than the Securities Depository of any notice with respect to any 2016 Refunding Bonds, including any notice of redemption, or
  - (3) the payment to any Participant, Beneficial Owner or any other Person, other than the Securities Depository of any amount with respect to the principal (and premium, if any) of or interest on any 2016 Refunding Bonds.

- (c) The Trustee shall pay all principal (and premium, if any) of and interest on the 2016 Refunding Bonds only to or upon the order of the Securities Depository, and all such payments shall be valid and effective fully to satisfy and discharge the Authority's obligations with respect to the principal (and premium, if any) of, and interest on such 2016 Refunding Bonds to the extent of the sum or sums so paid.
- (d) If (1) the Authority receives a written notice from the Securities Depository to the effect the Securities Depository is unable or unwilling to discharge its responsibilities or (2) the Authority determines that it is in the best interests of the Beneficial Owners of 2016 Refunding Bonds that they be able to obtain 2016 Refunding Bonds in certificated form, then, in either event, the Authority shall notify the Trustee and, in the case of clause, (2), the Securities Depository.
- (e) Upon discontinuance of the use of the Book-Entry Only System maintained by the Securities Depository pursuant to subsection (d) above and upon receipt of notice from the Securities Depository containing sufficient information, the Authority shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver 2016 Refunding Bonds in certificated form to Beneficial Owners in exchange for the beneficial interests of such Beneficial Owners in corresponding principal amounts and in any Authorized Denominations.
- (f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this 2016 Series Ordinance to the contrary, so long as any 2016 Refunding Bond is registered in the name of the Securities Depository or its nominee:
  - (1) all payments with respect to the principal, premium, if any, and interest on such 2016 Refunding Bond and all notices of redemption, tender and otherwise with respect to such 2016 Refunding Bond shall be made and given, respectively, to the Securities Depository as provided in the blanket issuer letter of representations between the Authority and the Securities Depository;
  - if less than all of the 2016 Refunding Bonds of the same type of any maturity are to be redeemed, then the particular 2016 Refunding Bonds or portions of 2016 Refunding Bonds of such type and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by the Securities Depository in any such manner as the Securities Depository may determine;
  - (3) all payments with respect to principal of the 2016 Refunding Bonds and premium, if any and interest on the 2016 Refunding Bonds shall be made in such manner as shall be prescribed by the Securities Depository; and
  - (4) if a 2016 Refunding Bond is redeemed or tendered in part, then all amounts payable in respect of such redemption or tender shall be paid without presentation and surrender of such 2016 Refunding Bond pursuant to the procedures of the Securities Depository.

Section 7. Credit Facility.

- (1) Disposition of Accrued Interest: From the proceeds of the sale of the 2016 Senior Lien Refunding Bonds there shall be immediately deposited in the Senior Lien Bond and Interest Redemption Fund an amount equal to any accrued interest received on the delivery of the 2016 Senior Lien Refunding Bonds, and the Authority may take credit for the amount so deposited against the amount required to be deposited in the Senior Lien Bond and Interest Redemption Fund for payment of the next maturing interest payment on the 2016 Senior Lien Refunding Bonds.
- (2) Senior Lien Bond Reserve Account Deposit. If required as provided in Section 4(g) of this 2016 Series Ordinance, from the proceeds of the 2016 Senior Lien Refunding Bonds, there shall next be applied an amount as set forth in the Sale Order to be deposited to the Senior Lien Bond Reserve Account at least equal to the 2016 Senior Lien Reserve Requirement after taking into account any Credit Facility or Credit Facilities to be acquired with the proceeds of the 2016 Senior Lien Refunding Bonds or any other funds legally available therefor.

Financial Services Group Audit Committee Communication

Date: August 5, 2016

To: Great Lakes Water Authority Audit Committee

From: Jon Wheatley, Public Finance Manager

Re: Resolution Regarding Approval of Series Ordinance Authorizing Issuance and Sale of Water Supply System Revenue and Revenue Refunding Bonds an Amount Not to Exceed $1,134,000,000 (Ordinance 2016-08)

Background: In order for the Great Lakes Water Authority ("GLWA") to proceed with issuance of new water supply system bonds and the refunding of various outstanding water bonds for the purpose of achieving annual debt service savings, the GLWA Board must approve the included resolution approving the Series Ordinance. The Series Ordinance sets forth the guidelines for the New Money and Refunding Bonds and authorizes the Chief Executive Officer or the Chief Financial Officer to execute the final terms of the Bonds, paying issuance costs and signing of the Bond Purchase Agreement, within the parameters set forth in the Series Ordinance.

New Money Portion - The authorized amount for the New Money Bonds in Section 3, page 4 is for an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $284,000,000. As you will recall, the Board authorized a Notice of Intent at its February 10, 2016 meeting which set the borrow limit for GLWA at $300 million. At its previous meeting, the GLWA Board adopted Series Ordinance 2016-05, which authorized up to $17 million in DWRF Bonds, of which almost $16 million is anticipated to be spent based on bid prices received. The remaining $284 million in of the Notice of Intent amount will be dedicated to these New Money Bonds. GLWA and DWSD are finalizing the final allocation of these amounts, based on the respective capital improvement plans (CIP) needs for the next two years and it is anticipated that the full amount of New Money Bonds will be issued.

Refunding Portion - The authorized amount for the Refunding Bonds in Section 3, page 4 is for an aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $850,000,000. The final par amount of the Refunding Bonds will be determined at the time of pricing and is based on current bond market pricing levels, issuance costs and the par amount of the bonds to be refunded as determined by the savings level achieved. While the approval of the resolution gives GLWA the authorization to issue refunding bonds, GLWA does not have to proceed with the refunding if market conditions become less favorable when it comes time to price the bonds.

Key Provisions:

- Not to Exceed Par Amount: $1,134,000,000 (Combined)
- Maximum Coupon Rate: 5.75%
- Minimum Purchase Price: 99% of principal amount of bonds
- Maximum Underwriter Discount: 0.35% of principal amount of bonds
- Present Value Savings: Equal to or greater than 7.00% of principal amount of bonds to be refunded

Additional Provisions: New to the Water Series Ordinance No. 2016-08 is Section 23Amendments to Ordinance. As noted on page 23, this section provides for a "springing amendment" dealing with the ability of GLWA to reduce or eliminate the bond reserve requirement for the senior lien bonds when at least 2 of the 3 national rating agencies rate the senior lien bonds in the AA category, provided that the reduction in the reserve requirement would not negatively affect the outstanding ratings. The amendments will become effective upon the deemed consent of at least 51% of the holders of the outstanding senior lien bonds.

GLWA will add this springing amendment to each future series ordinance to obtain the 51% consent level.

The reduction or elimination of the bond reserve requirement would free up some or all of the cash in those funds (currently about $46.5 million combined senior and second lien reserves) that can be transferred to the Receiving Fund or the Surplus Fund, as directed by GLWA.

Proposed Action: Audit Committee recommends that the Great Lakes Water Authority Board approve the resolution Approval of Series Ordinance Authorizing Issuance and Sale of Water Supply System Revenue and Revenue Refunding Bonds an Amount Not to Exceed $1,134,000,000 as presented, at its regular meeting on August 10, 2016.

Financial Services GroupAudit Committee Communication

Date: August 5, 2016

To: Great Lakes Water Authority Audit Committee

From: Nicolette N. Bateson, CPA, Chief Financial Officer/Treasurer

Re: Discussion: Application of the 4% Revenue Requirement Provision in the Memorandum of Understanding Regarding the Formation of the Great Lakes Water Authority

Background: The Memorandum of Understanding Regarding the Formation of the Great Lakes Water Authority (MOU), executed on September 9, 2014, included the following provision.

Each System, as a whole, is assumed to experience revenue requirement increases of not more than 4% for each of the first ten years under Authority management.

A few items of note related to this language.

- Within the context of the MOU, "system" refers to the water and sewer system.
- 2. "Revenue Requirement", in general, is the sum of a) operations and maintenance expense, b) debt service, c) reserve funds, and less other non-operating revenue.
- 3. A source of the 4% is that it represented the pledge of the management team, since 2012, to operate the systems more efficiently through ongoing optimization. A goal of the optimization effort was to limit the increase in the revenue requirement to no more than 4%. This feasibility of this pledge was validated through a number of independent financial forecasts during the formation of the Authority. The foundation of those forecasts was applying a simple base year plus 4% per year for each year thereafter.

Analysis: As we begin to effectuate new financial opportunities that a regional authority presents, namely debt refunding savings, the need to define how to apply the 4% revenue requirement becomes evident. If the 4% is applied as an annual "year-to-year" ceiling, then there are some unintended consequences that could lead to alter preferred financial decisions. This became evident when evaluating how best to structure refunding savings. If savings are structured with a higher amount in early years (to offset revenue losses, for example), then the year to year approach, produces an overall artificial savings pattern. This is because refunding savings opportunities are on multiple year cycles. The overly simplified table below attempts to portray this mathematical challenge.

Table 1: Demonstration of Year-to-Year vs. Cumulative Interpretation of the 4% Revenue Requirement Ceiling

			Year Three Budget
	Base Year	Year Two Budget	(Refunding Savings;	Decision Point: Year
Revenue Requirement Elements	Budget	(Base Year Plus 4 %)	O&M at 3%)	Four Ceiling
Operations & Maintenance	40.00	41.60	42.85	Allocation among the
Debt Service	50.00	52.00	48.00	elements produces potential
Reserves	10.00	10.40	10.82	unintended consequences
Scenario 1: Revenue Requirement
Ceiling based on Year to Year
Fluctuation	100.00	104.00	101.66	105.73
Variance		4.00	(2.34)
Scenario 2: Revenue Requirement
Ceiling based on 4% Cumulative	100.00	104.00	108.16	112.49

In Scenario 1: Revenue Requirement Ceiling based on Year to Year Fluctuation, the refunding savings are shown in year three. The conundrum for year four is the impact of a material positive variance in one of the elements from year three, placing a mathematical downward pressure on year four. One downside would be pressure to restructure the savings to artificially preserve a higher revenue requirement when the optimal solution is increased allocation of refunding savings to accelerate the improvement of financial performance.

In Scenario 2: Revenue Requirement Ceiling based on 4% Cumulative, a ceiling is established based on 4% over time. The difference between the base year plus 4% annually and actual revenue requirement provides a clear measure of the GLWA's financial performance over time. That delta can be viewed as a quantifiable measure of the Authority achieving its intended financial purpose.

This matter has been reviewed with GLWA's bond counsel and feasibility consultant. Bond counsel will be present at the Audit Committee for this discussion and the feasibility consultant will have presentation materials. The consensus is that a 4% cumulative ceiling is consistent with the intent of the MOU and analysis prepared in support of the creation of the Authority.

Subject to discussion with the Audit Committee, staff proposes that practices already in place and subsequent clarifications should be formalized in a policy. Other topics to include in that policy include FY 2016 Revenue Requirements as the base year, define revenue requirement consistent with other documents, quantify the 4% applied to the ten year period in the MOU and describe non-budgetary revenue variances.

Proposed Action: Receive and file report. Schedule consideration of a board policy at the September 2016 Audit Committee meeting.

Re: FY 2016 Retail and Wholesale Sewer Revenue Report- Variance Analysis

Background: The included table summarize the unaudited FY 2016 wholesale customer sewer revenues billed by the Great Lakes Water Authority ("GLWA") and the retail sewer revenues billed by the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department ("DWSD"). Please note these are billed revenues and do not reflect collections of those revenues. It should also be noted that the revenues are shown in the month that the billed flow was recorded and not the following month when the bills are usually sent out.

DWSD Retail Billings: The top portion of the table includes the billed volume and revenues for the DWSD retail customers for FY 2016. These numbers were provided by DWSD staff and includes only DWSD revenues from its commodity, fixed charge and service charge revenues, which is consistent with how retail revenues have historically been tracked. It should be noted, the FY 2016 numbers include an estimate of June 2016 volume and revenue (highlighted in yellow) as they were not available at the time of this report. As can be seen from the table, the FY 2016 billed volume is at 90.9% of budget and billed revenue at 96.8% of budget.

Wholesale Customer Billings: The middle section of the table includes the billed volume and revenues for the wholesales customer class for the completed FY 2016. As a result of the sewer rate simplification which was designed to create a more stable revenue stream, the wholesale sewer customers are billed a fixed monthly fee which is not dependent on sewer usage. The results of this effort can be seen as the billed volume is at 100.0% of budget and billed revenue at 100.0% of budget.

Combined Billings: The bottom section of the table includes the combined billed volume and revenues for FY 2016 for both DWSD retail and GLWA wholesale customers. As can be seen from the table, the total billed revenue is at 98.3% of budget.

Financial Services Group Audit Committee Communication

Date: August 5, 2016

To: Great Lakes Water Authority Audit Committee

From: Jon Wheatley, Public Finance Manager

Re: FY 2016 Retail and Wholesale Water Revenue Report- Variance Analysis

Background: The included table summarize the unaudited FY 2016 wholesale customer water revenues billed by the Great Lakes Water Authority ("GLWA") and the retail water revenues billed by the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department ("DWSD"). Please note these are billed revenues and do not reflect collections of those revenues. It should also be noted that the revenues are shown in the month that the billed flow was recorded and not the following month when the bills are usually sent out.

DWSD Retail Billings: The top portion of the table includes the billed volume and revenues for the DWSD retail customers for FY 2016. These numbers were provided by DWSD staff and includes only DWSD revenues from its commodity, fixed charge and service charge revenues, which is consistent with how retail revenues have historically been tracked. It should be noted, the FY 2016 numbers include an estimate of June 2016 volume and revenue (highlighted in yellow) as they were not available at the time of this report. As can be seen from the table, the FY 2016 billed volume is at 93.3% of budget and billed revenue at 93.3% of budget.

Wholesale Customer Billings: The middle section of the table includes the billed volume and revenues for the wholesales customer class for the completed FY 2016. As can be seen from the table, the billed volume is at 101.2% of budget and billed revenue at 100.8% of budget.

Also included for your review is a report, by community, of the year to date budget vs actual analysis by customer community and a comparison of FY 2016 to FY 2015 performance.

Combined Billings: The bottom section of the table includes the combined billed volume and revenues for FY 2016 for both DWSD retail and GLWA wholesale customers. As can be seen from the table, the total billed volume is at 99.7% of budget and billed revenue at 98.8% of budget.

Re: Wholesale Accounts Receivable Aging Report

Monthly Analysis- As of July 31, 2016

The first page of the report is a summary of total, current and non-current receivables by category. The bottom of the page shows the summary of the City of Highland Park receivables and what the aging report would look like without the past due balances of the City of Highland Park. The pages that follow are the detailed aging reports for each customer category.

Water Accounts- The total receivables were $39,613,281 with current receivables of $35,121,944 and past due receivables of receivables of $4,491,337, of which $353,735 was received from the City of Taylor on August 2, 2016 and $541,923 related to a billing dispute with NOCWA to which GLWA proposed a settlement on July 20, 2016. All receivables over 75 days are related to the City of Highland Park, which is a combined $3,493,582.

Sewer Accounts- The total receivables were $46,529,858 with current receivables of $20,429,800. The City of Highland Park represents almost all of the non-current past due balances with $26,055,521 past due.

IWC (Industrial Waste Charge) Accounts- The total receivables were $2,310,929 with current receivables of $873,184 and past due receivables of $1,437,745. The City of Highland Park represents $1,433,133 of the receivables over 75 days.

Pollutant Surcharge Accounts- The total receivables were $883,554 with current receivables of $603,196 and past due receivables of $280,359. There are still several accounts that represent a majority of the past due amount (over 105 days). They represent $256,458 of the $261,765 over 105 days and have been contacted for payment or referred to the legal department.

Miscellaneous Accounts- The total receivables were $4,814,187 with current receivables of $796,608 and past due receivables of $4,017,579. The receivables greater than 75 days are related to the Shared Services Agreement with the City of Detroit Water & Sewerage Department (DWSD) for $3,941,289. The latter is subject to a first-time true-up process underway where amounts are also owed by GLWA to DWSD for shared services.

Re: Informational Update – City of Flint Billings & Collections

On October 16, 2015, the City of Flint ("City") re-joined the regional water system. At that time, the City's account was established with a deposit of $10 million. The table below identifies the balance remaining as of the most recent billing date of July 26, 2016.

On July 11, 2016, the City of Flint signed a Letter of Agreement with GLWA to extend water services until June 30, 2017. Per this agreement, two transfers are to be deposited into the Prepayment Fund. To date, $5.9 million was received on July 13, 2016.

MEMORANDUM

Illustration of the 4% Commitment Implementation

August 4, 2016

To: Nickie Bateson

From: Bart Foster

You have asked for commentary and observations regarding potential implementation policies and strategies to honor the commitment in the Memorandum and the Lease(s) that "the (Water and/or Sewer) System is assumed to experience annual increases in the Authority Revenue Requirement of not more than 4%" – which we refer to herein as the "4% Commitment".

Background

In our opinion, the origin of the 4% Commitment can be traced back to the appointment of Sue McCormick as DWSD Director in January 2012. At that time, DWSD was in the midst of issuing Water and Sewer Revenue Bonds, disclosure for which indicated forecasted annual increases in water and sewer charges of approximately 8 percent each year for the five year planning period starting with FY 2014. (Charges for FY 2013 were already proposed and in the approval stage when Ms. McCormick assumed the role as Director.) Ms. McCormick introduced a strategic initiative designed to optimize system operations, reduce operating costs, apply portions of the savings to finance capital improvements from revenues (and thereby reduce the reliance on debt), improve the financial position of the utilities, all while cutting the forecasted increases in revenues from charges in half. The DWSD Board of Water Commissioners embraced the overall philosophy and strategic optimization plan that supported it.

The core philosophy clearly indicated a commitment to limit the annual increases to the "controllable" elements of the financial plan, or the total budgeted revenue requirements. That philosophy did not apply to items that were not directly controllable by management, including revenues from water sales and sewage disposal services that were subject to declining usage being experienced nationwide. As such, the 4% Commitment applied to the overall annual budgeted revenue requirements not the "unit charge" necessary to produce the increased revenues. In other words, the commitment was to limit the increase in the numerator in the "unit charge" equation to 4%, irrespective of changes in the denominator.

This fundamental principle was originally enacted in charges developed for both FY 2014 and FY 2015, for which annual increases in the "unit charge" were limited to 4%, despite decreases in projected usage volumes.

By the time the FY 2015 charges took effect, negotiations towards establishing the MOU and the subsequent Lease(s) were underway. The principle of maintaining the 4% limitation while assessing the feasibility of the Lease Payment and the separation of the DWSD system into wholesale and retail service organizations was fundamental to the success of the negotiations, and led to the inclusion of the 4% Commitment into the documents. The language was carefully crafted to emphasize that it applied to increases in budgeted revenue requirements, not increases in unit charges (or "rates").

FY 2016 was the first year for which the 4% Commitment was "officially" applied in annual financial plans and budgets. Initially, one would presume that application of a uniform guideline would seem to be a fairly straightforward process – simply increase the FY 2015 overall budgeted revenue requirements to establish an "upper limit" for the FY 2016 overall budgeted revenue requirements. However, the dynamic nature of the DWSD organization produced many complications, including:

- Immediately following approval of the FY 2015 budget and user charges, Flint announced that it was leaving the Water System prior to the beginning of FY 2015. This resulted in a revised expected level of revenues, and therefore revenue requirements associated with anticipated deposits to the I&E Fund;
- Similarly, it became readily apparent that sales and collections from other customers were perhaps overstated in the FY 2015 budget;
- The City of Detroit's bankruptcy proceedings began to indicate preliminary restructured revenue requirements associated with employee benefit costs at levels that were not consistent with the approved FY 2015 budget;
- The bankruptcy proceedings also resulted in a major tender of existing DWSD outstanding revenue bonds, which resulted in materially lower debt service payments than were included in the FY 2015 budget.

While DWSD did not formally amend its official budget to reflect these factors, the forecast for FY 2015 financial activity that was included in the documents supporting the tender transaction that closed in September 2014 did reflect them. So when planning for the FY 2016 Budget was initiated in the fall of 2014, the DWSD Board was faced with a policy decision: to which version of the FY 2015 "budgeted revenue requirement" does the 4% Commitment apply? The original approved budget? Or the revised forecast? After much consideration the 4% Commitment was ultimately applied to the revised forecast.

A similar dilemma arose during planning for FY 2017 budget and financial plan. The DWSD Board approved a FY 2016 Budget in March 2015 that reflected the old "consolidated" DWSD organization. While that budget contemplated certain of the separation concepts that were being considered in the final Lease negotiations, it could not fully anticipate the final result of those negotiations. Following adoption of the DWSD budget for FY 2016, the Lease negotiations were finalized and resulted in changes to the originally approved amounts. These changes, which had the effect of reducing and "reconfiguring" the original FY 2016 budget, while not resulting in a formal budget amendment included:

- Establishment of the Budget Stabilization Fund, which was not contemplated during development of the FY 2015 Budget;
- Decisions by the City of Detroit regarding application of a portion of the Lease Payment to debt service, rather than depositing all of it to the Local I&E Account;
- An overall system reduction in total revenues and revenue requirements associated with each of the above two elements;
- Efforts to "bifurcate" the FY 2016 Budget into wholesale and retail elements, including establishment of dual resources for certain management functions for both entities and incorporation of a shared services concept;
- The necessity to establish "stub year" budgets based on the decision to implement the separation on January 1, 2016.

Once again, management and board members were faced with a policy decision: from which depiction of the FY 2016 "Budget" and financial plan should the 4% Commitment apply for purposes of establishing the FY 2017 budgeted revenue requirements? Only this time the policy decision rested with GLWA principals. Given the complexities of the FY 2016 Budget, GLWA management proposed, and the GLWA Board approved, application of the 4% Commitment to the originally approved DWSD Budget for FY 2016.

While it is perhaps convenient to presume that each of these years were "non-recurring exceptions" in the normal course of business, we submit that it is likely that similar "exceptions" will occur on a fairly routine basis in the future - particularly given the stated intent of GLWA management and Board to embrace budget amendments and/or fiscal note concepts. As such we believe it is prudent to consider possible implementation guidelines and policies when interpreting the 4% Commitment.

Preliminary Recommendation and Discussion

First, we acknowledge that the "Preliminary Recommendation" set forth herein is actually your concept, which we consider to be a quite elegant approach to codify a complex concept. You have suggested that the 4% Commitment is most appropriately evaluated, implemented, and measured, by:

- Establishing a baseline "budgeted revenue requirements" representation;
- Applying annual 4% increases to the baseline year to establish a "benchmark" forecast of future revenue requirements, which effectively represent the forecasted cumulative impact of annual 4% revenue requirement increases, and against which to evaluate future "actual budgeted" revenue requirements;

- Evaluating future budgeted revenue requirements against the benchmark projection, and:
- Interpreting the 4% Commitment as having been met so long as the budgeted annual revenue requirements for any year do not exceed the projected benchmark established via application of the annual 4% vs. the original benchmark.

We believe that your concept is very sound, particularly since future revenue requirements are likely to be materially impacted by various factors which (while arguably not as dramatic as those experienced recently related to the bankruptcy and bifurcation) could include:

- Revenue fluctuations associated with customer exits and additions;
- Debt service savings associated with upcoming refunding opportunities;
- Potential cost impacts of modifications to current understanding regarding shared services and related allocations.

We believe the appropriate baseline for purposes of evaluating this approach is FY 2016, which was the first year for which GLWA principals controlled budget decisions. We further believe that the most appropriate depiction of FY 2016 is the original budget, prior to final modifications related to the Lease negotiations. We have modeled the forecasted financial performance of applying the concept introduced above, and applied annual 4% increases to the baseline year to establish a "benchmark" projection. The preliminary results (for the Water System for illustrative purposes) are depicted on the first page of the attached exhibits.

In the Baseline Condition, we've assumed that the total revenue requirement will increase 4% annually, and established that as the "benchmark" measured by the red line. We've also assumed 4% annual increases in the O&M budget and modeled the preliminary debt service projections from long term CIP planning. The Lease Payment is fixed, and the pension reimbursement is fixed through FY 2023 (we've assumed complete removal in FY 2024 for purposes of this illustration). Since overall revenue requirements increase 4% annually, and since there are fixed elements amongst some of the non-operating expenses, the amounts available to the I&E Fund (to fund capital improvements) and/or reserves steadily grows, as does the debt service coverage ratio. This "trajectory" illustrates the basic philosophy original established via Ms. McCormick's optimization plan.

Exhibit Page 2 illustrates a hypothetical alternative scenario in FY 2020 in which we assume:

- A "flat" O&M budget no change from FY 2019;
- Refunding savings to reduce debt service by 5%;
- Maintaining the overall 4% revenue requirement increase.

In this scenario, revenues that were formerly targeted to O&M and debt service are applied to enhanced contributions to the I&E Fund (to fund capital improvements) and/or reserves, and more material increases in the debt service coverage ratio.

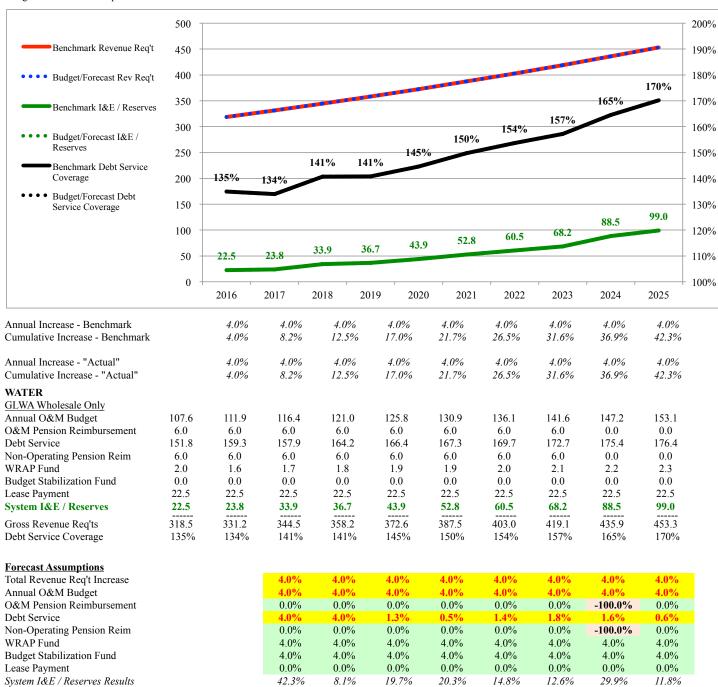

Next, we've introduced a second scenario, in which the O&M and debt service budget savings from Alternative Scenario 1 are maintained, and in which the overall 4% is NOT implemented. In effect, this hypothetical Alternative Scenario 2 applies the budget savings from individual budget elements to forgo the need to increase charges to customers for FY 2020. Compared to the Baseline Condition, the forecasted reserve amounts and debt service coverage ratios still represent improvements, although to a lesser degree. Importantly, the overall revenue requirement is now below the benchmark 4% Commitment.

Finally, let's illustrate the overall concept with an Alternative Scenario 3. In this hypothetical circumstance regulatory pressures have resulted in the need to increase the FY 2022 O&M budget by more that 4%, and revenue shortfalls in a prior year have pressured actual reserve balances. GLWA management proposes a 6% increase in the overall revenue requirement in order to address these unique occurrences. The resulting metrics are still positive related to the Baseline Condition, and – most importantly – the overall cumulative revenue requirement is still lower than the benchmark, and the 4% Commitment continues to be honored under the interpretation you have suggested.

We are prepared to present this material and discuss this matter at your convenience.
