UPDATE 5: Boil Water Advisory Lifted for City of Wayne and Parts of Romulus, Westland and Inkster

The Boil Water Advisory issued by the Great Lakes Water Authority (GLWA) for the City of Wayne and parts of Romulus, Westland and Inkster has been lifted, effective immediately. Testing has confirmed that the water is safe to consume and cook with and meets all Safe Drinking Water Act regulations.

GLWA took the precautionary measure of issuing the boil water advisory on the evening of Friday, May 26, due to the loss of pressure in the water distribution system caused by an equipment malfunction from a power outage, which is under investigation. Whenever a water system loses pressure for any significant length of time, the precautionary measure of a boil water advisory is recommended.
