DETROIT – The Great Lakes Water Authority (GLWA) experienced a disruption at its North Service Center Pump Station at approximately 8:00 a.m. today, which has impacted water flow to Rochester Hills, Orion Township, Auburn Hills, Lake Orion, a section of Oakland Township, Troy and Bloomfield Township.

GLWA crews have begun restoring water pressures to the impacted communities.

Due to the drop in pressure caused by the disruption, the city of Rochester Hills has issued a precautionary boil water advisory for the northwest portion of its community, as well as section of Oakland Township that receives its water from Rochester Hills. Please click here for more information on the Rochester Hills boil water advisory. Orion Township has also asked its residents to restrict water use to essential needs only until further notice.

The cause of the disruption is being investigated. More information will be shared as it becomes available.

About the Great Lakes Water Authority (GLWA)

The Great Lakes Water Authority (GLWA) is the provider-of-choice for drinking water services to nearly 40 percent, and efficient and effective wastewater services to nearly 30 percent, of Michigan's population. With the Great Lakes as source water, GLWA is uniquely positioned to provide those it serves with water of unquestionable quality. GLWA also has the capacity to extend its services beyond its 88 member partner communities. As part of its commitment to water affordability, the Authority offers a Water Residential Assistance Program to assist low-income households in participating member communities throughout the system. GLWA's board includes one representative each from Oakland, Macomb, and Wayne counties, two representatives from the city of Detroit, and one appointed by the Michigan governor to represent member partner communities outside of the tri-county area.
